The President's Piece

notes from a big country

Greetings All,

Another month has gone by, and with it a range of activities to engage our members. The good news is that Phil Abbott has agreed to be our apprentice minute-taker, for this we are very grateful.

Guest speakers at our next meeting will be James and Simon who will tell us about their Variety Bash adventures, and their vehicle will be there to take a look at.

The Long Distance Rally to Mt Gambier is underway, so we look forward to hearing all about their adventures. Sincere thanks to Lyn Jordan for all the work that goes into these trips. Thanks to Gus and Ivan who hosted a great Tinker Day held on yet another wet and cold day, so pleasing that so many brave the elements to come out to make these days a success. Remember to check the calendar of events each month.

Food for thought

Signs You Should Stop Driving

On the road, little mistakes can have big consequences for you and the people around you. So, if you find yourself doing any of the following while you're driving, it might be time to consider other forms of transport:

- Getting lost consistently
- Colliding with or scraping against stationary objects (like a car, pole, or wall) while parking
- Getting confused while interpreting traffic signals or signs
- Failing to stop at red lights or stop signs
- Mistaking the accelerator for the brake
- Stopping at green lights

If you're unsure about your own ability to drive, or you're concerned about an older family member behind the wheel, consider undergoing a driving fitness test with the licencing body in your state, (for example, VicRoads in Victoria). This way, you'll have an independent opinion on your or your loved one's driving ability and receive professional advice on the next steps.

Otherwise, if it's not yet time to completely give up driving, you can make a few minor changes that might help minimise your risk of having an accident. For instance, you could avoid driving in low light, or when the weather is especially bad. Or you could limit your car use to familiar roads within a certain distance of your home.

Getting Around Without Driving

Living life without your driver's licence might mean making a few adjustments, but it shouldn't affect your lifestyle. For example, rather than driving to the local supermarket or pharmacist, you could opt for home delivery. And when you'd like to get out and about, you could ask a friend or family member to drive you, take public transport, or make use of a home care service for safe and easy transport. There are plenty of fuss-free options to keep you mobile and independent, without taking extra risks.

Could you use some help getting from A to B? Here at Simply Helping, we offer a range of flexible home care services, including transport! We can take you to and from doctor's appointments, social outings, and more.

Automotive History Fun Facts

1. The Term "Tune-Up" Was Created By Henry Ford While Working On His First Automobile Prototype Henry Ford spent a lot of time working on the automobile, and he noticed that when the coils worked together properly, they would buzz. If the coils didn't make the buzzing sound, it showed they needed an adjustment that he later called a "tune-up."

2. The First Electric Vehicle Was Created In 1832 Robert Anderson created the first electric-powered vehicle in 1832. Then in the 1990s, General Motors produced the EV1, otherwise known as the first mass-produced electric car. Today, many drivers are opting to purchase an electric car to reduce their carbon footprint.

3. The Worlds First Automobile Race Was In 1895 With A Winning Speed Of 15 MPH Things have changed quite a bit since 1895, and luckily, cars can move a lot faster than 15. If cars could still only drive a maximum of 15 mph, it would take a long time to get around.

4. Car Steering wheels were invented in Cleveland, Ohio, by a man named Alexander Winton. Back in 1896, Winton began a series of inventions relating to cars and is most known for his steering wheel.

5. The Car Radio Was First Introduced By Chevrolet In 1922, the first car radio was introduced by Chevrolet. The government wanted to ban it because it could be considered a distraction, but the ban didn't go through. By 1963, most vehicles had radios in them.

6. Cars On The Road Are Getting Older Over Time- The average age of cars on the road in 2010 was 10.6 years, and in 2019 it was 11.8. This number is expected to continue growing as newer vehicles are built with more complex technology, allowing them to have a longer lifespan.

7. The Most Common Car Color Is White And The Least Popular Car Color Is Purple White, black, and gray are the most popular car colors, and you probably could have guessed that just by looking at the other cars on the road. Brighter, less-common colors like purple, orange, and yellow are not as easy to find.

8. There Are About 50 Pounds Of Copper Wiring In The Average Car There's about 40 pounds of copper in the electrical system, and 10 pounds of copper are found in non-electrical systems. That's a lot of copper wiring and parts! Luckily, you can leave that all to your mechanic.

9. Only One Out Of Every Three Technicians Pass The ASE Certification Exam On Their First Try The certification test is a very difficult test as cars are complex and made up of many parts. Here at Wrench, we have hundreds of ASE-certified techs all over the country that will bring our convenient services right to your location
